

7 January 2010

Press Release, for immediate release

Climex Data Now available on Bloomberg

As of the start of the New Year the Climex continuous trade data is available on Bloomberg. Subscribers to the BLOOMBERG PROFESSIONAL® service can see prices and volumes of EUAs, CERs and ERUs on the Climex Spot Platform. Next to this they will be updated on the outcomes of all Climex Auctions, like the upcoming EUA Spot Auction for the Austrian Government in March and the results of the regular VER Auctions Climex organises.

“We are very happy that Bloomberg is providing continuous access to the Climex data to the more than 300,000 Bloomberg users,” explains Axel Posthumus, CEO of Climex. “This adds great value to Bloomberg users and furthers transparency in both the compliance and voluntary market and to better access to what happens on our exchange. Since we are the only exchange offering cleared ERU trading, we think it can especially contribute to price information in this market.”

The Climex data is accessible to Bloomberg users via the functions ALLX CLIX <GO> and ERH CLX <GO>.

During the month of January a banner, which links directly to the Climex data, will be displayed to Bloomberg users.
